

Is your child struggling with functioning at home, school or both?

West Central Behavioral Health is a nonprofit behavioral health center that has been helping children since 1977. Our child and family outpatient programs provide services for children ages 0-18 and their families. Our compassionate clinical treatment addresses anxiety, depression, trauma and conduct problems. We focus on helping families cope with divorce, addiction, violence and financial challenges. We also help support children and families struggling with the added stress caused by the COVID-19 pandemic.

We offer services in-person at our clinics, your home, school or via telehealth on a secure video-conferencing platform that is safe, private, and HIPAA compliant.
